1080p HD Indoor/Outdoor Wired Camera

The HD Analog 1080p wired camera is equipped for facial recognition & night vision ranging up to 100 ft. with an auto IR cut filter sensor that produces a clear and crisp image day or night. Designed for use both indoor and outdoor, rain or shine, for an extra layer of safety and deterrence. If there's something out of place at your home or business, it won't escape the watchful eyes of this Night Owl Wired Security Camera. That's peace of mind, all the time.

Backwards-Compatible with Analog BNC Cables

Night Owl's unique HD Analog series technology is also backwards-compatible with existing analog cabling. Keep your original industry standard BNC analog cables that are installed in your home or business and just add on Night Owl's HD Analog 1080p cameras (Please note that this camera is only compatible with Night Owl's HD Analog series DVR's. Not compatible with AHD7 Series).

Wide 100° Viewing Angle

This 1080p HD bullet camera features a 100° field of view over the standard 42° view of most cameras, with picture perfect 16:9 wide-angle viewing. This expanded field of view offers a better picture while monitoring larger and distant areas with ease and precision.

Vandal-Proof Camera Mount

Night Owl HD Analog 1080p wired camera comes equipped with a 3-axis vandal-proof mounting bracket. The cable runs directly through the center of the bracket into the wall or ceiling, preventing exposure that could attract potential intruders.
